

I listen to is KLOVE radio which is available in my area by FM translators. If the translators were to be taken out, it would no longer be possible to hear decent, ethical Christian music and programming here. I believe that the more people who hear these solid standards on a radio station that supports wholesome values and has a positive and encouraging impact, my community will be a better place to live.